THE SILVER QUESTION.

The following from the pen of Capt. J. M. Thomas, written to the Lexington Leader is of much interest. He is well known as one of the most successful business men in Central Kentucky, and his utterances should have weight.

You may recall my article in the Leader on silver, and how stubbornly I protested against the repeal of the Sherman act and other anti-slavery legislation. I consider yet it was a great mistake, and was the cause of business disturbance and financial depression. But a business man can't live in the past. I was once in the confederate army and tried to do my duty then and there, but the biggest bore to me on earth is the fellow that is yet fighting the battles of the gone-by war. So in finance, what we want is a settlement on something, and let it be settled. Whatever may have thought of silver, the fact is patent to business men, "Silver is knocked out," except as a subsidiary coin.

We are getting our affairs adjusted to what is needed, and the business of the country now reviving ought not again, we think, to be disturbed by agitation of tariff or finance. It is more to men who do something and expect to try to do something than is the case of politicians.

There is, I can say from our business and a wide correspondence, a general revival of commerce all over the land. Our lead lumber Company sales were larger last month than ever before, and wheat, cattle, raw materials and manufactured articles are at a better price. Why should we jeopardize good fortune?

Permit me to give as all conservatism, but even the boys ought to have a little sense. Wonderful how fast and full of change humanity is. I bought the old Ryman piano in Paris for trees; they were pine, locust, elms, etc. One fellow wanted me to cut the elms, they were not healthy; another, the locust, they were dry; another, the pines, they were too large to be ornamental. I kept all, however, and have a pretty yard.

So let's ask a rest. "Give us rest?" Let's see what we can do for awhile, and it begins to dawn on me the perils we threaten and handle the finances of the state and Nation possibly know as much on a little more now if it than I do.

At any rate, just now for a while the gold standard does seem to hold, and business men say "half."

In policies a thing may be right at one time and the same be wrong at another. I wanted silver left alone, but it is dashed, and I would not run business home to save it.

Dr. C. P. Lee, of Davyville, Ky., shot and wounded J. D. Morrow, of Goshen. A scandal was the cause of the difficulty.

Many of the Democrats here favor a postponement of the State Convention as suggested in the Saturday edition of the Evening Post. It is confidently thought that with one or two months longer to study the financial situation the Free-Silver party will be too small to "burn" at a raising.

EGERTON V. DEASURIN served his time in prison. The United States Supreme Court denied his application for a habeas corpus. Take your medicine, Gene; isn't we know, but you kicked up a terrible rumpus and deserve all you are get, and "then some."

Miss ABIGAIL DODGE (Gail Hamilton) a well known author and writer, has long been an inmate of the family of James E. Blaine. She is now living at death-door in the Washington home of the family. She suffers from a paralytic stroke received about a week ago.

The Winchester Sun of last Thursday rejoices over the taking to task, by the New York Herald, of Congress for fooling away the entire session, within two weeks, of adjournment, before getting to work properly. The Herald article was written in February. The Sun is only about three months late.

The report that ex-Governor Knot will take the editorship of the proposed new Free-Silver daily paper at Louisville is erroneous. The ex-Governor says that he never contemplated such a movement. Also that he is giving very little attention to politics. Of the latter, in view of his recent emblem tree, silver utterances you are at liberty to make as much as you like.

J. SMITH HANS, Barboursville, Kanawha county, was a caller at the CLIMAX office Tuesday in the interests of his candidacy for Basile Commissioner in the third district. Mr. Hanes is a very man, but does not favor the adoption of financial resolutions at a District Convention. He is a stirring wide-awake man and would make a good Commissioner.

JOE BLACKBURN is winning lots of adverse criticism for the way in which he has chosen to answer Mr. Carlisle. His statement, "I believe, and I have reasons to believe, that Carlisle didn't come to Kentucky of his own accord, but came to execute a trap conference on him for one who is higher in authority," is regarded as unworthy of him, and a libel on Hon. John T.

The mortal remains of ex-Secretary Hugh McCulloch of the Treasury Department were consigned to their last resting place in Washington Monday morning.

COL. AND MRS. MARY S. R. BULLITT were granted an absolute divorce Monday afternoon. This we trust ends this matter which has for some reason been kept prominently before the public for many months.

Cotton is on a boom. Wheat is going to 75 cents. Beef is high. Corn is over 50 cents, but we have no more "primary" money than we had when the panic overtook us in 1865. Even the market has entered into the conspiracy to destroy silver.—Evening Post.

A HARDWARE merchant of this place, has received in the last week two invoices of goods from New York, and in each invoice is printed the words "payable in gold." A threat to put the country on a silver basis will cost all contracts soon or late to call for the yellow metal.—Winchester Sun.

WILLIAM HINES, of Warren county, died a short time since of drift. As he was going to church one morning he met Milton White, who pointed a double-barreled shotgun at him and commanded him to "sign a check for $1,000 or his life." He was so frightened that he died shortly after.—Ex.

The story comes from Petersburg, Ky., that peacock grown on the spot where a haunted house stood in that vicinity, are crimson in color. The plants come up red, and the superstitions ones say it is the blood of numerous people who were murdered in the old house years ago.—Winchester Democrat.

The Chinese and native residents of the island of Formosa have declared a republic. This Island was ceded to Japan by China part of the war indemnity. It is in wise probable that it will receive recognition. A large proportion of the population are the most abject savages. A few thousand foreigners and half civilized Formosans are at the head of this movement. It appears to be another Hawaiian affair. Just as I consider it a great mistake, and was the cause of business disturbance and financial depression. But a business man can't live in the past. I was once in the confederate army and tried to do my duty then and there, but the biggest bore to me on earth is the fellow that is yet fighting the battles of the gone-by war. So in finance, what we want is a settlement on something, and let it be settled. Whatever may have thought of silver, the fact is patent to business men, "Silver is knocked out," except as a subsidiary coin.

We are getting our affairs adjusted to what is needed, and the business of the country now reviving ought not again, we think, to be disturbed by agitation of tariff or finance. It is more to men who do something and expect to try to do something than is the case of politicians.

"Under the present system those who live on dirt roads are not liable to be taxed under the free pike system, but those who live on paved roads are liable to pay the pike tax. The Taxes Creek, Lancaster, Big Hill, Speedwell, Red House and others, cost $100 per mile. The Barnes Mill, $80; Green's Shop, and Union City, $10. Others cost from $40 to $100. I estimate the average cost of the 100 miles at $70, or a total of $7,000. What loss Mr. Coyle propose to do about this $7,000 deficiency?

Concerning the building of the new pikes, Mr. Coyle is not clear. He says: "We would appropriate money to build free pikes just as we have done under the present system."

In the past, the county has taken stock in roads were individuals had contributed a sufficient amount, over and above the appropriation of the county, to build the road. Under a free pike system there would be no more taking of stock by the county, and no more building pikes by individuals. Again he says:

"There is a perfect reign of terror in the islands. Informers are everywhere. People do not dare to speak in their own houses. There is everywhere a feeling of uncertainty, doubt and impending danger and ruin."

"These are the things that will favored the annexation have made up their minds that it is impossible.

The missionaries, as we call most of the political party in power, have claimed to be in favor of annexation, but have never been really. The annexationists mislead them now.

"As to the future—well, annexation is an impossibility, and all are agreed on about that. Thurston has gone back, and it is publicly said that he is going to propose the restoration of a monarchy, with Kainulani on the throne."

"A republic seems an impossibility, such a large part of the population are incapable of governing themselves. As long as this so-called republic can pay armed men to keep down rebellion it will last, and no longer. What they are talking of now, and want first, is some sort of protectorate of the United States.

"They are afraid of Japan, and they want some protection against any other foreign interference. Then, of course, what is next wanted is a monarchy.

"The natives are not at all disengaged by the failure of the last movement.

"They would gladly make another attempt. I am not a Royalist in principle, but under all the considerations existing down there, I think it is the only thing. A monarchy would unite all the natives, and be respected by all foreign powers."

The constitution does not provide for condemning private property for public uses; it merely provides for the payment thereof. But a State statute does provide for taking lands, timber, stone, etc. A question arises whether chartered rights are to be taken under that statute. The Dartmouth College decision of the Supreme Court of the United States opines that it will be.

Should the owners of any of the roads refuse to sell, we would condemn the pike under the clause in the constitution for public uses, just as you demand land upon which to make a county road."

SOME RELIABLE FIGURES ON FREE PIKES.

Editor Climax:
Your issue contained a contribution by W. S. Coyle of Berea on the subject of tree pikes. It was in answer to questions I propounded the week before, and I wish now to comment thereon. He says: "We propose to operate under a statutory law which tells us that we may levy a tax of 10 cents on the $100 for buying the pikes and 10 cents for maintaining same, which of course would be more money than would be necessary for the aforesaid purposes."

The taxable property of the county is $100,000. Ten cents on the $100 would amount to $10,000; but the county would lose $1,000 in dividends from stock cancelled, and the Sheriff's commission would be $700, so that the net income for maintenance of the free pikes would be only $8,300.

Now let us look at the cost of maintenance as now existing, and no reasonable man will undertake to say that pikes could be kept up by the county at a less expense than the cost of the companies. I give below a table of pikes, their names, length in the county and cost per road per year.

LEXINGTON, 125'.....$1,000
Tates Creek, 125'.....$1,000
Lancaster, 125'.....$1,000
Big Hill, 125'.....$1,000
Speedwell, 5'.....$00
Irving, 125'.....$1,000
Barney Mill, 125'.....$1,000
TOTAL.....$10,000

Thus it is seen that the $8,300 expended by the county in the cost of pikes, leaving about 100 miles in the county not provided for as to maintenance.

The Lexington pike costs $200 per mile, including toll gate keepers pay.

Tates Creek, Lancaster, Big Hill, Speedwell, Barney Mill, $80; Green's Shop, and Union City, $10. Others cost from $40 to $100.

Thus the Lexington pike costs $200 per mile, including toll gate keepers pay.

Mrs. W. F. Schoeler, wife of Mr. Schoeler, of the Sun, arrived in the city yesterday from Louisville. She is enroute to Mrs. E. S. Davis, on Winchester. Mrs. Schoeler is very charming little lady and we hope she may find pleasant friends in Ashland News.

Some months since a young lady in Madison county, in a spirit of fun, wrote a note, in which she expressed a desire to marry some nice young man, and sealed it in a bottle and trusted it to the Kentucky river waves. Many days afterwards a young man at Oregon, this country, was in a skiff and saw the bottle as it floated by, but did not then venture himself to pick it up. Next morning he met further down the river, a strong current caused the bottle to wash against his craft. This time he opened it and right answered themissive and received a kiss. The bottle-finder has already made three journeys to the county of Madison, and a few days since passed through this place again on his fourth. He gave it out that he was going to Madison to buy lumber. As the girl's note was 20 or 30,000 miles from timber land, and is very wealthy, the young man, from all reports, will soon be enabled to start a lumber yard of his own, as it is reported that there will be a marriage during the July dog days. By special request we do not mention names—Harrington Democrat.

The Sunday School Conference convened Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. Rev. W. F. Vaughn, D. D., of Harrodsburg, was elected President. W. E. Arnold, of Stanford, was elected Secretary. All the interests of the Sunday schools were carefully inquired into and the reports were encouraging. The Sunday School roll at this place (Methodist church), having been doubled since February last.

The Danville District Conference convened Thursday, the 16th inst., W. F. Vaughn, Presiding Elder, Chairman. All the preachers in the district in charge of churches were present except one. The reports made by the preachers and delegates showed that there had been much good accomplished in most all lines of church work. About 1,200 conversions, 700 sanctifications and 500 or 600 accessions.

Resolutions of thanks for the entertainment given by the people of Lancaster were read and adopted. Conference adjourned to meet at Perryville next year. There were about eighty preachers and delegates in attendance at these conferences.

The following persons presented during the sessions, viz.: Revs. S. W. Peeler, A. Reid, W. F. Taylor, J. R. Deering, J. A. Sawyer, U. A. McClure. Their sermons were instructive and edifying.

On Thursday night the Lord's Supper was administered to a large number of persons. This was a very impressive service. We have to give the privilege of having these conferences meet with us again. Lancaster Record.

Mr. James H. Wilson, of Station Camp, daughter of Mr. Ned Burlin, has been suffering from a cancer on one of her legs. Monday forenoon she suffered amputation of the diseased member above the knee. Dr. Foster, of this city, performed the operation, assisted by Drs. Scott and Wilson. The patient is doing well.

A BOY'S WORST FOE.

Don't send my boy where your girl can go
And say, "There's no danger for boys, you know
Because they all have their sins to sow."
There is no excuse for my boy to be low
Than your girl. Then please do not tell him so.
This world's sole lie is a boy's worst foe—
To hell or to kingdom they each must go.

Don't send my boy where your girl can't go
For a boy or a girl sin is sin, you know
And it's a sin to be a boy or a girl, and white,
And his heart is as pure as your girl's no white.
That which sends a girl to the pits of hell
Will send the soul of my boy there as well.

ZOOLOGICAL RHYMES.

A correspondent writes: "I strong ly follow the following rhyme together to tickle

the ears of my little boys, four and six years old. These boys tease me, and then

I read this big illustrated rhymester to point out the names, and tell what she can about them. This rhyme for rhyme and rhythm is, I suppose, a classic of nearly all children, and perhaps the publi cation of this will amaze a wider circle than my little household. The aim has been, after enquiry, to have the most ingenious Beasts in juxtaposition:

Alligator, Boar, Porcupine, Whistle;

Baboon, Panther, Dragonfly, Snail,

Crocodile, Monkey, Buffalo, Hair,

Dromedary, Leopard, Mud-turtle, Bear,

Elephant, Badger, Pelican, Ox,

UNCLE SAM'S GREENBACKS.

HOW THEY ARE MADE, AND WHAT PRECAUTIONS ARE TAKEN TO PREVENT COINTEGRATING THEM. AN IRON-

CLAD MONOGRAM, ETC.

THE GOVERNMENT.

No honest man disputes the right of the government to maintain its monopoly of the business of manufacturing paper money. In order to outwit the counterfeitors the greatest care is necessary. In the first place the peculiar paper employed, which is made of silk fiber and has threads of colored silk embedded in its surfaces, can only be made under strict supervision of the agents of the Treasury Department. If a private individual should be found in possession of even a small piece of unprinted paper he would be liable to twenty years imprisonment at hard labor in addition to the payment of a fine of $5,000. The sheets are counted scores of times from the time that they leave the paper mill at Springfield, Mass., until they are ready for circulation, and each person through whose hands they pass gives a receipt for the quantity received, and is held strictly responsible for the safety of his issue.

It is the duty of the government to prevent fraud and the loss of public money.

In the second place, the paper is printed with a double line of type, one line up and one line down, and the two lines are so arranged that it is impossible to copy them.

It is the duty of the government to see that the paper is printed in such a way that it cannot be copied.
